[excerpted from 1996 material by the American Bar Assn.] Amending The Constitution. The Facts. 1. According to Article V, amendments can be proposed by a two-thirds majority vote in Congress or at a constitutional convention called by two-thirds of the states. In order for a proposed amendment to become part of the Constitution, approval by three-quarters of the states is required.

Some Constitutional Issues and Points For Discussion
Lest this season pass without hearing Constitutional answers to current problems, let us review a few. Howard Philips, who ran for President in 43 states on the Constitution Party ticket, has thought through some of these ideas. These explanations show, once again, that the Constitution really has answers for our day.
